Systemic Solutions for Healthy Food Systems

This report, from the Global Alliance for the Future of Food, is “a guide for governments to take action for better food systems that promote human, ecological, and animal health and well-being”. The report makes 14 recommendations to improve food systems through policy and practice and advocates for a more interconnected approach to food system improvement.